From the principal

When we talk to others, with others and about others we are encouraged to always be kind, thoughtful and positive. We always build people up; we help them feel good about themselves. Most of us are very quick to encourage others to see the good in themselves, to dream big, to know that they can achieve their goals and dreams because they express the unlimited intelligence of divine Mind. They are the expression of divine Love.

What happens to us when we start thinking about ourselves, however? We are so quick to accept negative suggestions that we make to ourselves about ourselves. "I am really not good enough to do that; I never was able to run fast; I don't have a great memory; I could never do algebra; I don't have the ability to make money; I can't paint; etc, etc".

We talk to ourselves 80% to 90% of the time and it is essential that we monitor the kind of language we use when we talk to ourselves. We must learn to catch ourselves making these negative statements about ourselves – we are just perpetuating the lies. We are infinitely capable, if we will just allow ourselves to be. St Paul in his letter to the Philippians said "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus". Well Christ Jesus was not going around telling himself what he could not do and what he was bad at and thinking about how limited he was. He was constantly knowing his oneness with God – infinite Mind – and this is therefore what he expressed. The more we can ensure that our thoughts reflect our true positive, unlimited nature, the more we will experience this in our lives. Let's start being as kind to ourselves as we are to others..... This weekend - 4yo Kinder family dinner: Make a note in your diary now to join the family dinner at the Monash Hotel, Princes Hwy on August 30 at 6pm. Let's see if we can get everyone together at this (slightly) quieter time of year! Please RSVP to Janet

The Fete: It's time to get your skates on and start thinking about what you can do to contribute to this year's school fete. Maybe you could put together a basket for the silent auction, pot up some seedlings for the plant stall or donate some books, clothes, CDs etc – or make a pot or two of sauce or jam. The big shed (just up from the boarding house, opposite the astro turf; look for the sign that says 'fete' on the door) is the best place to leave goods. Each year level will run a stall: Read more online

WAVERLEY EISTEDDFOD

Hearty congratulations and sincere thanks must be given to the 250 students who participated in the Waverley Eisteddfod. The high quality of music making and the exceptional standard achieved by every student is amazing. Hours of hard work and commitment have been given by all students and their individual and combined dedication is thoroughly appreciated.

On Saturday 16 August 200 Huntingtower orchestral musicians from Years 3 to 12 performed magnificently in the Ensemble sections of the Waverley Eisteddfod..... Read more online
